

GARDiS - Access Management Software

GARDiS Access Management Software is the new user-friendly access control system developed by TDSi. It improves accessibility through ease of installation, with a user-friendly interface that has been developed specifically to accommodate varied users - from Installers to IT Managers.

Both the design and development have been innovated by customer feedback, which specified a simple and straightforward platform that requires minimal training. Set-up is also easy and straightforward thanks to the new installer wizard.

Ease of Use

Stepping up to provide the best solution to the latest security challenges, the GARDiS web-based application provides the most cutting-edge software within the market. Accessible through an internet browser, the application doesn't require specialist equipment - this provides cost-saving benefits to you. In addition, the reduced requirement for software configuration saves on time.
